

Repeat Winners - The Roxbury 5K

-Report by Mike Abraham

This week's winners were ... well the same as last week's winners. 15 year-old Ryan Fox took men's first place, and Theresa Krebs easily notched her 3rd straight victory of the season on the women's side over Krystal Koenig. Ryan's win however, was an –almost didn't happen – as he ran straight past the turn around cones onto Rt. 67, before responding to yells for him to turn around. Only in Roxbury might you experience such goodwill. Meanwhile, Scott Holmes, recently having passed the half-century mark, gathered some gumption at about the same moment Ryan was regaining the race. Scott gave chase and turned in a strong race, but Ryan held him off and won by 17 seconds – the hard way! There really is something to be said for running the correct distance!

The numbers fell off slightly in the third race of the season, but not much considering the weather. Sixty-seven runners finished the grinding 5K course which we introduced a few years ago. We've been accustomed to seeing high school runners show up for years now, but last couple years have witnessed more and more middle and even elementary school runners including Erik LoSacco, James Kennedy, Ed Wolf, and Roxbury resident Tabor Wanag who made his debut race with dad watching! Welcome to all!!

On a final note, thanks to Corinne Bellemare and Paul Butler for working the finish line.

Next week is the 3.55 down Hemlock.
